

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

9.17.2018

Contact Info:

press@farmersandfamiliesfirst.com

Farmers And Families First Release Statement Urging House and Senate Ag Leaders To Reach Deal On Farm Bill ASAP

Washington D.C. – Farmers and Families First today released the following statement from Dan Conston, president of Farmers and Families First, urging House and Senate leaders to reach a deal on the 2018 Farm Bill ahead of the Sept. 30 deadline.

“Farmers can’t afford to have the economic clock turned back – yet that’s exactly what will happen if congressional leaders can’t reach a farm bill deal by the September 30 deadline. A 2018 economy deserves a 2018 farm bill. It’s past time to give rural America the economic relief it’s needed for years.

“We urge agriculture leaders to put aside any partisan rhetoric and deliver a much needed win for our farmers, families and communities across America. Pass the 2018 Farm Bill now.”

To learn more about Farmers and Families First, visit www.farmersandfamiliesfirst.com.

Farmers and Families First, Inc. is a 501(c)(4) that advocates for free market-based policies to help the American farmers who grow our nation’s food and help the American families who consume that food. Our primary goal is to put ideas into action that promote innovation, lower costs through competition, and fairness for farmers and families. For more information, visit www.farmersandfamiliesfirst.com.

###